

Key responsibilities include but are not limited to the following:

- Restoring machine to operating conditions during machine runtime failure in a team setting
- Complete reactive maintenance on production lines to recover from equipment failures by repairing mechanical, electrical, and structural components
- Create retrofits and fabrication, complete machine tear down/repair and assembly and work on PLC's, VFD's, and electric motors
- Conduct creative problem solving to identify and perform equipment improvements
- Participate in special project work on equipment upgrades or installations
- Work with team members and operators to ensure the daily production schedule is met
- Plan, lead and execute preventative maintenance (PM) according to PM schedule to minimize equipment downtime
- Maintain partnerships with team members and vendors using effective communication
- Provide break relief to production operators or team members as needed
- Operate a forklift as needed to complete duties

Key qualifications include:

- Candidates must successfully pass the Ramsey Mechanical Skills and Aptitude Test before being considered.
- Contact Human Resources to set up this assessment.
- High school diploma or GED; additional technical training or certifications desired
- 3 or more years of previous experience in an industrial manufacturing environment
- Demonstrated sense of urgency in completing tasks and comfort working in a high speed production environment
- Strong mechanical and electrical skills; PLC experience a plus
- Solid computer skills, including the use of Word, Excel, Outlook, SAP desired
- Experience with CMMS or ERP systems needed, SAP experience preferred
- Ability to work independently or with a team and communicate effectively
- Solid problem solving and decision making skills with the ability to coach others
- Able to lift 100 lbs. and pull 120 lbs. as needed while performing work
- Able to work with an awkward posture for 2 hours or more
- Willingness to work holidays and weekends as we are a 24/7 facility operating through most weekends and holidays