Question I received February 11, 2025

Who is the current company?

Reply I

Our custodial services are currently being performed in-house.

Question II received February 11, 2025

What is the current price?

Reply II

This is currently not a contracted service; the cost is the salaries and benefits of our current employees which we will continue to employ in addition to contracting out our custodial services on the Fairfield campus.

Question III received February 11, 2025

Are the current employees in a union?

Reply III

Union membership is available to current custodial employees.
